

Narrating with Past Simple and Past Continuous.

Last summer my family and I visited some friends in Paris. Paris looked so beautiful, although it was raining most of the time. One day, when it finally stopped raining, we decided to go to Eurodisney. Me and my sister were so happy; it was a dream coming true. When we got there, we saw so many children. They were all laughing and enjoying themselves. First we rode two incredible roller coasters and then we watched fantastic shows and parades. We also took photos of several Disney characters, as they were wandering around the park. I had so much fun! It was the most amazing day in my life!
